

Saturday 18 August 2012

Dear

Setting aside, for a moment, discussion of standardized tobacco packs, and, yes, I will reply, I have a more urgent matter to bring to your attention. You may be aware that a firm called Omega Proteins regularly ships unsealed containers of rotting meat waste through Keighley. Occasionally these loads are spilled, getting a mention in the press. What is rarely mentioned, however, is the appalling stench these wagons leave behind them. I live , and have just had to retreat into my house twice in five minutes to avoid the execrable malodorous trail left by these lorries. They prevent me and many other residents of Keighley from the enjoyment of their property. We are told that there are no regulations preventing this emetic traffic. You are an MP. You are capable of making regulations based on the notion that the slightest whiff of tobacco smoke can be fatal. Is it beyond your powers to make some regulations that eliminate not only the aesthetic nightmare of living on this lorry route, but also the obvious public health risks involved?

I beg you to take up this case and show your voters what you're made of.

Yours faithfully,
