Joint Chairmen*Sir John Blelloch KCB and Brian Currin

The Rt Hon Peter Hain MP
Secretary of State for Northern Ireland
Castle Buildings
Stormont Estate
Belfast
BT4 3SG

Dear Secretary of State,

Sub-paragraph 6(1) of Schedule 1 to the Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998 requires us, as joint Chairmen, to make a report to you, as soon as practicable after the end of the financial year, on the performance of the Sentence Review Commissioners' functions during the year. We have accordingly forwarded to you and your predecessors Annual Reports every year since the first in 1998/1999.

This, our ninth report, covers the year ended 31 March 2007. The layout and, generally, the content of this Report follow the line adopted in last year's report. It should be noted that all our previous Reports are readily available on the Commissioners' website.

Chapter One summarises the background to the Commissioners' tasks and Chapter Two describes some general issues we addressed during the year. Chapter Three gives details of the caseload with which we dealt and Chapter Four deals with staff and resources.

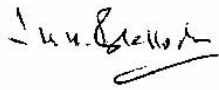

This year, the Commissioners reviewed their policy for handling cases of prisoners whose licences had been suspended by the Secretary of State. They have decided to put in place procedures to encompass all such cases and not just those who applied for a review.

Details of those cases and the other cases we dealt with can be found in Chapter Two.

Finally, as joint Chairmen, we should again record our appreciation and gratitude for the continuing support of our fellow Commissioners, and for the commitment, expertise and professional approach that they so commendably brought to the task.

Similarly, and also on behalf of all the Commissioners, we should thank our Secretariat for maintaining the excellent standard of administrative support upon which we have come to rely.

Yours sincerely

SIR JOHN BLELOCH, KCB
Joint Chairman

BRIAN CURRIN
Joint Chairman

Chapter One

Background

The work of the Commissioners has its origins in the Agreement reached on Good Friday (10 April) 1998 between the participants in the multi-party negotiations, subsequently endorsed by referendum.

The part of the Agreement dealing with prisoners committed both Governments to putting in place mechanisms to provide for an accelerated programme for the release of prisoners convicted of scheduled offences in Northern Ireland or of similar offences elsewhere. The arrangements were to protect the rights of individual prisoners under national and international law.

Prisoners affiliated to organisations that had not established, or were not maintaining, complete and unequivocal ceasefires were to be excluded from benefiting from the arrangements.

The Act and Rules

The Government gave effect to this commitment through the provisions of the Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998 ('the Act') and through various pieces of subordinate legislation made under it, most particularly the Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998 (Sentence Review Commissioners) Rules 1998 ('the Rules'). Both were passed by Parliament in late July 1998.

The Act provides for the appointment of Commissioners and sets out the criteria that must be met for a prisoner to be eligible for early release. It also provides that the extent by which an eligible sentence is reduced shall be one third of the time that the prisoner would otherwise have spent in prison. For a fixed-term prisoner this means release after one third of the sentence pronounced by the court (since all such prisoners would, but for the Act, have been entitled to 50% remission).

The Rules set out in detail the procedures under which prisoners apply for early release and the Commissioners consider their applications. Within the terms of the Rules there is provision for the views of the Secretary of State (represented by the Prison Service) to be made known and taken into account by the Commissioners. The Rules normally give both parties access to the same information. However, in certain circumstances information classified by the Secretary of State as 'damaging' may be withheld from the prisoner (and any representative nominated by the prisoner). If this happens, there is provision for the Attorney General to appoint a person to represent the interests of the prisoner.

The papers submitted by the prisoner (known as the 'applicant') and the Secretary of State (known as the 'respondent') are considered by a panel of three Commissioners who give their initial view in writing in the form of a 'preliminary indication'. The Rules allow either party to challenge the preliminary indication and have the issues considered afresh at an oral hearing. If there is no such challenge (or after an oral hearing) the final decision of the Commissioners is given to both parties in the form of a 'substantive determination'. The Commissioners have no power to reconsider a substantive determination, so the only way in which either party can challenge the outcome is by way of judicial review.

The procedures are described in detail in Annex A.

Eligibility for Early Release

The eligibility criteria laid down by the Act are that:

- the prisoner is serving a sentence of imprisonment in Northern Ireland;
- the sentence is one of imprisonment for life or for a term of at least five years;
- the offence was committed before 10 April 1998;
- if the sentence was passed in Northern Ireland, the offence:
  - was a scheduled offence; and
  - was not the subject of a certificate of the Attorney General that it was not to be treated as a scheduled offence;
- if the sentence was passed in Great Britain, the offence:
  - was committed in connection with terrorism and with the affairs of Northern Ireland; and
  - is certified as one that would have been scheduled, had it been committed in Northern Ireland;
- the prisoner is not a supporter of a specified organisation;
- if the prisoner were released immediately, he would not:
  - be likely to become a supporter of a specified organisation; or
  - be likely to become involved in acts of terrorism connected with the affairs of Northern Ireland; and
  - if a life-sentence prisoner, be a danger to the public.

Scheduled offences are defined in successive Northern Ireland (Emergency Provisions) Acts and comprise those most likely to be committed by terrorists. They include murder and manslaughter, kidnapping, serious assaults and armed robbery, and a wide range of firearms and explosives offences.

It should be noted that the Act does not require offences in Northern Ireland to have been committed by or on behalf of a terrorist organisation but simply requires them to have been tried as scheduled offences.

The Specified Organisations

The Act requires the Secretary of State to 'specify' by subordinate legislation any organisation believed to be concerned in terrorism connected with the affairs of Northern Ireland which has not established or is not maintaining a complete and unequivocal ceasefire. Specification of an organisation means that its supporters are not eligible to benefit from the early release arrangements.

The list of specified organisations for the period 1 April 2006 to 13 September 2005 to 31 March 2007 was:

- The Continuity Irish Republican Army
- The Loyalist Volunteer Force
- "The Orange Volunteers"
- The "Real" Irish Republican Army
- The Red Hand Commando
- The Red Hand Defenders
- The Ulster Volunteer Force

The Accelerated Release Date

The Act provided that any prisoners given release dates after the second anniversary of the Act's commencement would be released by the Secretary of State on that day, or when they had served two years in prison, whichever is the later.

It also provides that a prisoner cannot be released at any time before an application for revocation of the Commissioners' declaration has been finally determined.

The Secretary of State is empowered to vary these arrangements by subordinate legislation.

Licence Arrangements

Each prisoner released early under the legislation is subject to the licence conditions:

- that he or she does not support a specified organisation;
- that he or she does not become concerned in the commission, preparation or instigation of acts of terrorism connected with the affairs of Northern Ireland; and
- in the case of a life prisoner, that he or she does not become a danger to the public.

For a fixed-term prisoner, the licence remains in force until the date when he or she would otherwise been entitled to be released from prison (normally after completing 50% of the sentence). For a life prisoner, the licence remains in force for the rest of his or her life.

The Secretary of State may suspend a licence if he believes the person concerned has broken or is likely to break a licence condition. Where a released prisoner is recalled by the Secretary of State, the Commissioners will consider his or her case. If they think that he or she has not broken, and is not likely to break, a condition of the licence, they are required to confirm the licence, in which case the prisoner will be released again. Otherwise, they are required to revoke the licence, in which case the prisoner will lose entitlement to early release and will remain in prison until eligible for release under normal arrangements.

Chapter Two

Approach

The Commissioners are under a duty to implement one of the most sensitive parts of the Agreement, and their first priority continues to be the operation of fair, independent and efficient procedures giving effect to the Act and Rules.

During the year covered by this Report, the Commissioners held three plenary meetings at which they discussed in depth their approach with regard to aspects of their responsibilities that have either arisen for the first time or been brought into particular focus by experience relating to particular cases. The paragraphs that follow describe some of the issues thus considered and the conclusions that were reached.

Recalled Prisoners

When a prisoner's licence is suspended by the Secretary of State, Section 9(3)(b) of the Act states that the Commissioners shall consider his/her case. Rule 28 outlines the process and Schedule 2 of the Rules lists documents prisoners are asked to provide to help determine whether or not the licence should be revoked.

Previously the Commissioners have not proceeded to consider the suspension of a licence if the prisoner involved did not make an application for it to be so considered. However, the Commissioners have reflected on this position and concluded that the legislation in fact bestows on them a duty to consider all suspensions whether or not the prisoner makes an application to them. They have put the necessary work in hand to give effect to their view.

Damaging Information

Once again this year, the Commissioners had the opportunity to implement their agreed policy that provides, as far as practicable, for the fair and equitable handling of material certified by the Secretary of State as 'damaging information'.

This year in an application to review the suspension of a licence the Commissioners revoked a prisoner's licence in a decision based solely on "damaging information". The prisoner subsequently was granted leave for judicial review but the Commissioners decision was upheld by the Court. The prisoner subsequently appealed to the Court of Appeal where the case is likely to be concluded in the coming year.

Human Rights Act 1998

Section 6(1) of the Human Rights Act 1998 makes it "unlawful for a public authority to act in a way which is incompatible with a Convention right". The Commissioners have been advised that each of them is a public authority for the purposes of the Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998.

In giving effect to the 1998 Sentences Act, the Commissioners may, conceivably, be faced with some course of action that could be inconsistent with one or more Convention rights. They have been advised that, where they conclude that such inconsistency exists, their legal duty would be to comply with section 6(1). Accordingly, the Commissioners continually keep under review the policies and procedures that they have adopted in order to discharge their statutory responsibilities. To date these have been, and will continue to be, designed to reconcile, as far as practicable, the primary legislation (the 1998 Sentences Act) and the secondary legislation (the Commissioners' Rules) with the Human Rights Act.

Chapter 3

Chapter Three

Casework

The work of the Commissioners is mainly dependent on the number of prisoners who apply to them in accordance with the provisions of the Act. During the period of this Report, applications were received and cases processed as follows (see also table1):

Applications Received

Four applications for review of the suspension of a licence were received.

Consideration by Panel

Commissioners issued five preliminary indications. In all five cases they were minded to revoke the applicant's licence – three because they were not satisfied that, if released immediately, the applicant would not be a danger to the public and two because they were not satisfied that, if released immediately, the applicant would not become a supporter of a specified organisation.

Oral Hearings

Commissioners completed three oral hearings.

At 31 March 2007 there were five oral hearings pending.

Issue of Substantive Determination

The Commissioners issued four substantive determinations. In three cases the Commissioners granted the prisoner's application for early release and in the other case the applicant's licence was revoked.

Judicial Reviews

In the period covered by the report, two decisions of the Commissioners were subject to judicial review. In one case the judge dismissed the applicant's case and upheld the Commissioners decision. The applicant subsequently appealed to the Court of Appeal where the case is currently pending. In the second case, the judge did not grant leave for the applicant to judicially review the Commissioners' decision. The applicant subsequently appealed to the Court of Appeal where again leave was refused.

Table 1 shows the state of business at the end of each quarter, the total cases processed in the year and the total cases processed by the Commissioners since their appointment.

Chapter Four

Staff and Resources

For most of the year covered by this report, the Commissioners have been supported and advised by a Secretariat comprising the Secretary to the Commissioners and a team of four staff. A fifth staff member took up post in March 2007.

Throughout the year, the Commissioners have occupied accommodation on the 5th floor of Windsor House, Belfast.

Since October 2001, the Secretariat has also supported the work of the Life Sentence Review Commissioners appointed under the Life Sentences (Northern Ireland) Order 2001, who occupy the same accommodation. It is an increase in the workload of this body that necessitated the increase in staff indicated above. Shared costs have been apportioned accordingly and are indicated as *. All other costs were actually incurred.

Expenditure incurred by the Secretary of State in providing for the work of the Commissioners in the year ended 31 March 2007 was:

Programme expenditure:	2006/07	2005/06
Commissioners' remuneration <sup>1</sup>	44	33

- Who is eligible for early release
- How to apply
- What will happen.

The Commissioners have issued this for guidance only. For complete information, you or your advisers should study the relevant legislation -

- The Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998;
- The Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998 (Sentence Review Commissioners) Rules 1998;
- The Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998 (Specified Organisations) Order 1998;
- The Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998 (Specified Organisations) (No 2) Order 1998;
- The Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act (Specified Organisations) Order 1999;
- The Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act (Specified Organisations) Order 2001;
- The Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998 (Amendment of Section 10) Order 2000;
- The Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act (Specified Organisations) Order 2004; and
- The Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act (Specified Organisations) Order 2005.

Am I eligible?

You will be eligible to have your sentence reduced if all of these apply -

- you are serving your sentence in Northern Ireland;
- the offence in question was committed before 10 April 1998;
- the offence was a 'scheduled' offence and you were tried by a no-jury 'Diplock' court in Northern Ireland (or an equivalent offence if you were tried in Great Britain);
- you were given a sentence of five years or longer (including a life sentence);
- you are not a supporter of any of the following organisations -
  - The Continuity Irish Republican Army
  - The Loyalist Volunteer Force
  - "The Orange Volunteers"
  - The "Real" Irish Republican Army

- The Red Hand Commando
- The Red Hand Defenders
- The Ulster Volunteer Force

(This list may be changed at any time by the Secretary of State).

- if you were released immediately, you would not be likely to become :
  - a supporter of any of the organisations listed above, or
  - involved in acts of terrorism relating to Northern Ireland.
- if you are serving a life sentence, you would not be a danger to the public if released immediately.

N.B. A series of sentences being served consecutively must include at least one of five years or more in order to fall within the scope of the legislation. No sentence imposed for a non-scheduled offence can be reduced.

When would I qualify for release?

You would qualify for release on the date when you have served two years of the sentence.

- All release dates are subject to the normal rule that where the calculated date falls on a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday, release will take place on the next normal working day.
- You cannot be released until after the Commissioners have made a substantive determination in respect of your sentence.

N.B. The two-year period referred to above may be changed by Parliament at any time.

How do I apply?

You apply by sending to the Sentence Review Commissioners, 5th Floor Windsor House, BELFAST. BT2 7SR -

- a fully completed application form (FORM A);
- any supporting information or documents on which you wish to rely; and

- any decision notices and reasons previously given by the Commissioners or the Secretary of State in response to a previous application on your behalf.

It is important that all relevant information, including any upon which you might wish to rely at a subsequent oral hearing, should be provided at this stage if unnecessary delay and the need for further applications are to be avoided.

You must send the Commissioners two sets of these papers, one containing the original application form being marked 'ORIGINAL' and the other 'COPY'.

Who can help me apply?

You can ask anybody to help you prepare your application.

If you wish to use a lawyer you can apply for money to pay for legal advice and/or representation. You do this by applying to the Commissioners for a 'legal aid direction', using FORM B.

What will happen when I apply?

As soon as we receive an application, we will send you a written acknowledgement.

Your application will be allocated to a single Commissioner, who will be given responsibility for ancillary decisions on behalf of the Commissioners about your application (including any legal aid direction). He or she will also have the power to vary, on application, the time limits for particular actions.

The Commissioners will send a copy of your application to the Prison Service within a week of receiving it.

The Prison Service (acting on behalf of the Secretary of State) is required to give the Commissioners a written response within three weeks. The Commissioners will send you a copy of this response within a week of receiving it.

In prioritising the consideration of applications, the Commissioners will take into account the date on which the applicant would be likely to be released if the application were successful. Those with the earliest dates will generally be given priority.

A panel of three Commissioners will be appointed to consider the application and response and give a 'preliminary indication' of their decision. You and the Prison Service will be given written notice of the preliminary indication as soon as possible after the Commissioners have given it.

If the preliminary indication is that the Commissioners are minded to refuse your application, you and the Prison Service will be given a written statement of the reasons.

If the preliminary indication is that the Commissioners are minded to allow your application, you and the Prison Service will be given a written statement of the relevant sentences and, for any life sentence, the associated revised release date.

You and the Prison Service must each indicate to the Commissioners in writing within two weeks whether or not you wish to challenge the preliminary indication.

If neither of you challenges the preliminary indication within two weeks, the Commissioners will confirm it in the form of a 'substantive determination'. (See below for description)

What happens if there is a challenge?

The Commissioners will set aside the preliminary indication and convene a hearing prior to making a substantive determination.

You will be given at least three weeks written notice of the date, time and place of the hearing.

The hearing will normally be held in the prison where you are held and conducted in private unless the Commissioners decide otherwise.

Can I be represented by somebody else at the hearing?

You will be able to be represented by your lawyer or another person of your choice.

You may not, without obtaining the prior agreement of the Commissioners, be represented by anybody who is:

- serving a sentence of imprisonment;
- on licence, having been released from prison; or
- has an unspent conviction for an imprisonable offence;

You may not be represented by anyone who is liable to be detained under the Mental Health (Northern Ireland) Order 1986

You must give details of any representative on FORM A and notify the Commissioners and Prison Service within a week of any change in the name, address or occupation of your representative.

What will happen at the hearing?

You and the Prison Service (on behalf of the Secretary of State) will be able to appear and speak at the hearing and may, in particular:

- make opening and closing submissions (in person and/or through a representative);
- hear each other's evidence and submissions;
- put questions to each other;
- call any witnesses authorised by the Commissioners; and
- put questions to any witnesses

You may not rely on or refer to material that was not included in the application or response papers without the leave of the Commissioners.

If you wish to introduce additional material, you will need to make an ancillary application to the Commissioners.

The substantive determination

You will be given written notice of the Commissioners' substantive determination as soon as possible after it is made.

Where your application has been allowed, the determination will specify the sentence(s) in respect of which you have a right to be released under the Act. In relation to a life sentence, it will also specify the release date that the Commissioners consider appropriate.

Where your application has been refused, or where a previous determination is being revoked, the determination will include a statement of the reasons why.

Can the Secretary of State have the substantive determination revoked?

The Secretary of State is required to apply to the Commissioners to revoke the substantive determination if at any time before you are released he believes that:

- due to a change in your circumstances, or a change in the list of specified organisations, you no longer satisfy the conditions for early release; or
- evidence or information that was not available to the Commissioners when they granted the determination suggests that you no longer satisfy the conditions for early release.

If this happens, the Commissioners will reconsider your eligibility in the same way as they considered your original application.

Even if you complete two years of your sentence while the Secretary of State's application is under consideration, you will still have to remain in prison until the Commissioners make their final determination.

Can I appeal against a refusal?

The only way of challenging a substantive determination by the Commissioners is by means of judicial review.

Can I apply again after a refusal?

You can make a further application, which the Commissioners will consider if, and only if:

- circumstances have changed since your most recent determination; or
- you submit new material that was not put before the Commissioners when they made that determination.

How does the process work?

The Commissioners will send a copy of your application to the Prison Service within three working days of receiving it.

The Prison Service (acting on behalf of the Secretary of State) must give the Commissioners a written response within three working days. The Commissioners will send you a copy of this response within three working days of receiving it.

Your case will be allocated to a single Commissioner, who will be given responsibility for ancillary decisions on behalf of the Commissioners about your case (including any legal aid direction). He or she will also have the power to vary, on application, the time limits for particular actions.

When the single Commissioner directs that your case is ready, a panel of three Commissioners will be appointed to consider it and give a 'preliminary indication' of their decision. You and the Prison Service will be given written notice of the preliminary indication as soon as possible after the Commissioners have given it.

As soon as possible after giving the preliminary indication, the Commissioners will give you and the Prison Service a written statement as to whether they are minded to confirm or revoke your licence and a statement of the reasons.

You and the Prison Service must each indicate to the Commissioners in writing within seven days whether or not you wish to challenge the preliminary indication.

If neither of you challenges the preliminary indication within seven days, the Commissioners will confirm it in the form of a 'substantive determination'. (See below for description)

What happens if I do not apply?

If you do not make an application, the process outlined above will go ahead without your participation. However, you will be sent a copy of the response papers provided by the Prison Service, the Commissioners' "preliminary indication" and their "substantive determination".

What happens if there is a challenge?

The Commissioners will set aside the preliminary indication and convene a hearing prior to making a substantive determination.

You will be given at least three working days written notice of the date, time and place of the hearing.

The hearing will normally be held in the prison where you are held and conducted in private unless the Commissioners decide otherwise.

Can I be represented by somebody else at the hearing?

You will be able to be represented by your lawyer or another person of your choice.

You may not, without obtaining the prior agreement of the Commissioners, be represented by anybody who is:

- serving a sentence of imprisonment;

- on licence, having been released from prison; or
- has an unspent conviction for an imprisonable offence.

You may not be represented by anyone who is liable to be detained under the Mental Health (Northern Ireland) Order 1986

You must give details of any representative on FORM D and notify the Commissioners and Prison Service within three working days of any change in the name, address or occupation of your representative.

What will happen at the hearing?

You and the Prison Service (on behalf of the Secretary of State) will be able to appear and speak at the hearing and may, in particular:

- make opening and closing submissions (in person and/or through a representative);
- hear each other's evidence and submissions;
- put questions to each other;
- call any witnesses authorised by the Commissioners; and
- put questions to any witnesses

You may not rely on or refer to material that was not included in the application or response papers without the leave of the Commissioners.

If you wish to introduce additional material, you will need to make an ancillary application to the Commissioners.

The Substantive Determination

You will be given written notice of the Commissioners' substantive determination as soon as possible after it is made. This notice will comprise a statement as to whether your licence has been confirmed or revoked and a statement of the reasons.

What happens to me if my licence is confirmed?

You are entitled to be released from prison immediately and to remain at liberty, subject to the conditions in the licence.

What happens to me if my licence is revoked?

You will remain in prison until such times as, on referral following the expiry of your tariff, the Life Sentence Review Commissioners consider that you should be released under the terms of the Life Sentences (Northern Ireland) Order 2001.

Can I appeal against my licence being revoked?

The only way of challenging a substantive determination by the Commissioners is by means of judicial review.

Can I apply again after a refusal?

You can make a further application, which the Commissioners will consider if, and only if:

- circumstances have changed since your most recent determination; or
- you submit new material that was not put before the Commissioners when they made that determination.
