BRITISH HALLMARKING COUNCIL

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN - 2009

Introduction

2009 was a difficult year for the jewellery trade as the market was depressed by a number of factors especially the financial crisis and the high price of gold which had a significant effect on consumers buying habits.

There were additional factors which depressed the market for hallmarking in the UK even further, including internet and television sales, and the increased popularity of unmarked silver fashion jewellery.

So the total number of items marked by the Offices during the year was 16,158,000 which represents a further decline from the total of 18,939,000 in 2008 and a 54% drop from the peak of 35,245,000 items in 2003.

This loss of throughput has forced the Offices to look carefully at their costs which in turn has resulted in a loss of further jobs during the year.

There was some good news, however, when Parliament approved the measure bringing palladium jewellery within the hallmarking regime - a process which will be complete on 1 January 2010 when hallmarking of these items will become compulsory. At the same time a new design of shield for the palladium fineness mark will be introduced - as the initial design provide to be confusing in use.

Also on 1 January 2010 a new form of dealers notice will become available from the Council via the Assay Offices. In addition to updated content the notice will identify the Office providing it, and will be available on line free of charge.

It is intended that these developments, following on from the recent change to the rules relating to the marking of mixed metal items, will further help the trade to negotiate the adverse market conditions which have been experienced.

Sub Offices

There were no requests made to Council to open new sub Offices during the year.

Regulatory Issues

The main topics discussed by Council during the year related to "offshore" marking, and centred on the increasing trend of foreign Assay Offices to mark outside their own home jurisdiction and the inability of the UK Offices to do the same themselves as a result of the provisions of the hallmarking Act 1973.

A particular concern for the Council, and the Assay Offices, has been the activities of the Dutch Waarborg Assay Office which has been providing a service to manufacturers based in China and Thailand for the hallmarking of goods with the Dutch nationals hallmark within manufacturers premises. It has become apparent that in doing so the Waarborg Office has not adhered to procedures which are regarded as necessary by the authorities in the UK including the National Measurement Office, Council and the Assay Offices. At the time of writing this report, at the end of December 2009, steps were being taken towards withdrawal of recognition of the Waarborg Office mark, with the approval of Lord Drayson, then Minister at the Department of Business Innovation and Skills responsible for hallmarking.

Council is also working with the Assay Offices and the National Measurement Office concerning the possible amendment to the Hallmarking Act 1973 to allow the UK Offices to set up sub Offices outside the UK, subject to satisfactory monitoring and controls.

2009 was the last year of the current Council, and as part of the rotation procedure the three Government appointees who have served for three terms of three years each must retire, to be replaced by new members. As a result, Peter Clapham, Fod Barnes and Adam Green leave the Council at the end of 2009. They will be very much missed. Peter Clapham has served with distinction as the Chairman of the Committee which deals with the establishment and monitoring of sub Offices. Fod Barnes has taken the lead in the preparation of formal and informal economic impact assessments of policies under consideration or implementation by Council. Adam Green has given valuable insights into issues facing the Council, initially from the point of view of the jewellery manufacturer, and latterly from the point of view of the high street jewellery retailer. We shall miss them all, but look forward to the contributions of John Pearce, Robert Grice and Bryn Aldridge who replace them.

Inspection by the Royal Mint

The Queens Assay Master has confirmed that the results of the inspections of all the Offices in 2009 were satisfactory.

Enforcement

The low level of enforcement activity by the Trading Standards Departments continues to be an agenda item for Council meetings. Council members Mike Drewry, Eric Melrose and Adrian Levett are all former very senior Trading Standards Officers, and during the year they advised Council on actions that might be taken to encourage and facilitate enforcement activity. These included taking steps to publicise fraud and the risk of fraud, providing support and resources to Trading Standards Departments, agreeing specific targets and objectives for enforcement in particular localities and the possible creation of a joint Council / TSI / LACORS working party. These possibilities and any other activities which might be beneficial to promote enforcement and which are viable in terms of available resources will be progressed in 2010 and beyond.

The results of the statistical returns from 120 Trading Standards Departments for 2009 are as follows:-

Finance

The expenses of the Offices are covered by the Assay Offices pro rata to their respective turnover figures for the preceding year as laid down by the Hallmarking Act. Accordingly it would not be appropriate for Council to have either a permanent surplus of income over expense or to create reserves. The accounts for the year are included in the combined report and accounts.

Prices for Assaying and Hallmarking

Council fixes the maximum charges which may be made for assaying and hallmarking. These were largely left unchanged during 2009 although at the October 2009 meeting of the Council the maximum charges for registration and re registration were increased to £60 and £30 respectively. Details of all the maximum charges are set out in Appendix I to this report.

The Date Letter

The date letter is an optional mark, and the letter for 2010 is I.

Statistics

Details of the number and weight of gold, silver and platinum items dealt with by the Assay Offices and other statistical information are set out in Appendices II and III to this report.

The total number of items marked in the year was 16,158,000.

Auditors

The Comptroller and Auditor General has audited the accounts for the year ended 31 December 2009.

Race Equality Policy

Council has a Race Equality Policy, a copy of which can be obtained from the Secretary.

Publication Scheme

Council has a Publication Scheme for the purposes of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, a copy of which can be obtained from the Secretary.

Conclusion

2009 has been another difficult year for British Hallmarking. The traditional protection that hallmarking offers has been threatened by the possibility that items bearing inferior hallmarks might be on the market in the UK. The Assay Offices have had to deal with a continuing downturn in business whilst at the same time they are being denied the chance to compete internationally. Despite this, hallmarking remains the best protection available for consumers of precious metal items, a protection that becomes more relevant as gold, silver and platinum prices continue to rise.

FOREWORD TO THE ACCOUNTS

Preparation of accounts

The statement of accounts of the British Hallmarking Council has been prepared in a form directed by the Secretary of State with the consent of the Treasury in accordance with the Hallmarking Act 1973 (as amended by the Government Resources and Accounts Act 2000 (Audit of Public Bodies) Order 2003). The statement has also been prepared in accordance with an Accounts Direction letter dated 21 January 2004 from the former Department of Trade and Industry which requires the annual accounts to show a true and fair view of the income and expenditure and cash flows for the financial year and the state of affairs at the year end and further requires the accounts to be prepared in accordance with Executive Non-Departmental Public Bodies Annual Reports and Accounts Guidance and other guidance which the Treasury may issue from time to time and any other specific disclosures required by the Secretary of State. The Annual Reports and Accounts guidance has been superseded by the Government Financial Reporting Manual

So far as David Gwyther, the Accounting Officer, is aware, there is no relevant audit information of which the Council's auditors are unaware, and the Accounting Officer has taken all steps which he ought to have taken to make himself aware of all relevant audit information and to establish that the Council's auditors are aware of that information.

History, statutory background and principal activities

The British Hallmarking Council was constituted by and is governed by the Hallmarking Act 1973. The British Hallmarking Council is charged with the duty of ensuring that adequate facilities for the assaying and hallmarking of articles of precious metal are available as from time to time required in the United Kingdom, of supervising the activities of assay offices in that behalf, of taking all steps appearing to be open to it for ensuring the enforcement of the law with respect to hallmarking and of advising the Secretary of State with respect to all matters concerning the due execution of this Act including any matter which may be referred to the Council by the Secretary of State.

Financial Reporting Manual disclosure requirements

The Directors Report and Operating and Financial Review information required to be disclosed by the Government Financial Reporting Manual is contained in the Foreword to the Accounts and the Report of the Chairman . A Remuneration Report is also required by the Financial Reporting Manual. All relevant disclosures required are included in note 3 to the accounts - "Staff numbers and related costs" - therefore no separate Remuneration report has been produced.

Results for the year

The results for the year are set out on page 25. The costs of the British Hallmarking Council are funded by contributions from the Assay Offices in London, Birmingham, Sheffield and Edinburgh in accordance with the Hallmarking Act 1973. Any additional income collected by the Council reduces the Assay Offices' contributions.

Duties of Council members

The function of the British Hallmarking Council is set out in the Hallmarking Act 1973. Individually Council members contribute to the fulfilment of that function through their participation at meetings - usually three times a year. In addition, Council members may serve on working parties to consider various topics from time to time, and there is also a standing sub- Committee, made up of Council members, to deal with individual applications by Assay Offices for permission to open a sub Office.

Disclosure of Council members' interests

The register of Council members interests, maintained by the Secretary, is open to inspection by the public by prior appointment with the Secretary at Martineau's offices.

Payment policy

The British Hallmarking Council adheres to the principles of the Better Payment Practice Code ('BPPC') as set out below:

- Agree payment terms at the outset of a deal and stick to them;
- explain payment procedures to suppliers;
- pay bills in accordance with any contract agreed with the supplier or as required by law; and
- tell suppliers without delay when an invoice is contested, and settle disputes quickly.

The BPPC target is to pay all undisputed supplier invoices within 30 days, unless other payment terms have been agreed. This target was achieved in relation to 42% (2008 - 45%) of invoices by value because of delays in settling invoices from Martineau in relation to one off projects.

Employees

The British Hallmarking Council does not have any employees.

Auditors

The statement of accounts has been audited by the Comptroller and Auditor General. The auditors are appointed under statute and report to Parliament. The audit fee for the year ended 31 December 2009 is £ 3,000 (£2,500 in 2008). No other services were provided.

Personal data

The Council does not hold personal data and there have been no personal data loss incidents within the year

Future developments

For the 2010 calendar year the specific objectives of the British Hallmarking Council are described in the Chairman's Report - pages 2 to 5.

Post Statement of Financial Position

There are no post statement of financial position events which might affect the understanding of the statement of accounts.

STATEMENT OF COUNCIL AND ACCOUNTING OFFICER'S RESPONSIBILITIES

Under the Hallmarking Act (as amended), the Secretary of State with the approval of Treasury has directed the British Hallmarking Council to prepare a statement of accounts each financial year in the form and on the basis set out in the Accounts Direction. The accounts are prepared on an accruals basis and must give a true and fair view of the Council's state of affairs at the period end and of its income and expenditure, total recognised gains and losses and cash flows for the financial year.

In preparing the accounts, the Council and the Accounting Officer are required to comply with the requirements of the Government Financial Reporting Manual and in particular to:

- observe the Accounts Direction issued by the Secretary of State, including relevant accounting and disclosure requirements, and apply accounting policies on a consistent basis;
- make judgements and estimates on a reasonable basis;
- state whether applicable accounting standards as set out in the Government Financial Reporting Manual have been followed, and disclose and explain any material departure in the financial statements; and
- prepare the financial statements on a going concern basis, unless it is inappropriate to do so.

The Accounting Officer for the former Department of Trade and Industry appointed the Secretary of the Council as Accounting Officer. His relevant responsibilities as Accounting Officer, including responsibility for the propriety and regularity of the public finances and for keeping proper records, are set out in the Accounting Officers' Memorandum issued by the Treasury and published in "Managing Public Money".

STATEMENT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

Scope of responsibility

As Accounting Officer, I have responsibility for maintaining a sound system of internal control that supports the achievement of the British Hallmarking Council's policies, aims and objectives, whilst safeguarding the public funds and Council assets for which I am personally responsible, in accordance with the responsibilities assigned to me in "Managing Public Money".

My appointment as Accounting Officer was confirmed by the former Department of Trade and Industry, the Council's then sponsoring Department ('the Department'), on 16 January 2004. The appointment letter sets out the specific responsibilities of the Accounting Officer in respect of internal control matters.

On 10 June 2003, the Council approved its Code of Practice ('the Code'). The Code is based on Cabinet Office Guidance on 'Codes of Practice for Board Members of Public Bodies' (February 2000) and was prepared in consultation with the Department. The Code incorporates my responsibilities as Accounting Officer towards the overall management of the Council, its procedures and financial matters.

The purpose of the system of internal control

The system of internal control is designed to manage risk to a reasonable level rather than to eliminate all risk of failure to achieve policies, aims and objectives; it can therefore only provide reasonable and not absolute assurance of effectiveness. The system of internal control is based on an ongoing process designed to identify and prioritise the risk to the achievement of Council policies, aims and objectives, to evaluate the likelihood of those risks being realised and the impact should they be realised, and to manage them efficiently, effectively and economically. The system of internal control has been in place at the British Hallmarking Council for the year ended 31 December 2009 and up to the date of approval of the annual accounts, and accords with Treasury guidance.

Capacity to handle risk and the risk and control framework

The Council is a small operation and internal control procedures have been designed with this in mind. The following arrangements are in place, which demonstrate the Council's capacity to handle the risks to its operations:

- Council meetings, which I attend, are usually held three times a year to discuss the activities of the Council and to review or assess the impact of existing and proposed legislation on the Council. Representatives from the Assay Offices and the Department regularly attend Council meetings.
- The annual budget is approved by the Council. Martineau prepare and maintain accounting records under my supervision and any payments made to this firm for all services provided are independently approved by the Chairman and disclosed separately in the financial statements.

- Actual expenditure is reviewed in comparison with the annual budget by the Council and is approved by the Council when the statement of accounts is approved.
- The Council does not have an internal audit function or audit committee but the Council will consider matters impacting on internal control and the financial statements. This arrangement is considered sufficient for the size and extent of the Council's operations.

Review of effectiveness

As Accounting Officer, I have responsibility for reviewing the effectiveness of the system of internal control. My review of the effectiveness of the system of internal control is informed by the work of Council members who have responsibility for the development and maintenance of the internal control framework, and comments made by the external auditors in their management letter and other reports. I have been advised on the implications of the result of my review of the effectiveness of the system of internal control by the Council and a plan to address weaknesses and ensure continuous improvement of the system is in place.

A Corporate Statement was agreed between Council and DTI and signed in January 2005. Following the transfer of sponsorship from DTI to the National Weights & Measures Laboratory and subsequent Machinery of Government changes between DTI DIUS and DBIS, a new Corporate Statement was agreed with the National Measurement Office and signed on 5 March 2010. A copy is available from me.

THE CERTIFICATE AND REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER AND AUDITOR GENERAL TO THE HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT

I certify that I have audited the financial statements of the British Hallmarking Council for the year ended 31 December 2009 under the Hallmarking Act 1973 as amended by the Government Resources and Accounts Act 2000. These comprise the Net Expenditure Account, Statement of Financial Position, the Statement of Cash Flows and the related notes. These financial statements have been prepared under the accounting policies set out within them.

Respective responsibilities of the Council, Accounting Officer and auditor

The Council and Accounting Officer are responsible for preparing the Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with the Hallmarking Act 1973 as amended by the Government Resources and Accounts Act 2000 and the Accounts Direction made by the Secretary of State, with the approval of HM Treasury, and for ensuring the regularity of financial transactions. These responsibilities are set out in the Statement of Council and Accounting Officer's Responsibilities.

My responsibility is to audit the financial statements in accordance with relevant legal and regulatory requirements, and with International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland).

I report to you my opinion as to whether the financial statements give a true and fair view and whether the financial statements have been properly prepared in accordance with the Hallmarking Act 1973 as amended by the Government Resources and Accounts Act 2000 and the accounts direction issued by the Secretary of State, with approval of HM Treasury. I report to you whether, in my opinion, the information, which comprises the Report of the Chairman, Members of the Council and the Foreword to the Accounts, included in the Annual Report is consistent with the financial statements. I also report whether in all material respects the expenditure and income have been applied to the purposes intended by Parliament and the financial transactions conform to the authorities which govern them.

In addition, I report to you if the British Hallmarking Council has not kept proper accounting records, if I have not received all the information and explanations I require for my audit, or if information specified by HM Treasury regarding remuneration and other transactions is not disclosed.

I review whether the Statement on Internal Control reflects the British Hallmarking Council's compliance with HM Treasury's guidance, and I report if it does not. I am not required to consider whether this statement covers all risks and controls, or form an opinion on the effectiveness of British Hallmarking Council's corporate governance procedures or its risk and control procedures.

I read the other information contained in the Annual Report and consider whether it is consistent with the audited financial statements. This other information comprises the Appendices. I consider the implications for my report if I become aware of any apparent misstatements or material inconsistencies with the financial statements. My responsibilities do not extend to any other information.

Basis of audit opinions

I conducted my audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland) issued by the Auditing Practices Board. My audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence relevant to the amounts, disclosures and regularity of financial transactions included in the financial statements. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgments made by the Council and Accounting Officer in the preparation of the financial statements, and of whether the accounting policies are most appropriate to the British Hallmarking Council's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

I planned and performed my audit so as to obtain all the information and explanations which I considered necessary in order to provide me with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error, and that in all material respects the expenditure and income have been applied to the purposes intended by Parliament and the financial transactions conform to the authorities which govern them. In forming my opinion I also evaluated the overall adequacy of the presentation of information in the financial statements.

Opinions

In my opinion:

- the financial statements give a true and fair view, in accordance with the Hallmarking Act 1973 as amended by the Government Resources and Accounts Act 2000 and directions made thereunder by the Secretary of State, with the approval of HM Treasury, of the state of the British Hallmarking Council's affairs as at 31 December 2009 and of its results and cash flows for the year then ended;
- the financial statements have been properly prepared in accordance with the Hallmarking Act 1973 as amended by the Government Resources and Accounts Act 2000 and directions made thereunder by the Secretary of State, with the approval of HM Treasury; and
- information, which comprises the Report of the Chairman, Members of the Council and the Foreword to the Accounts included within the Annual Report, is consistent with the financial statements.

Opinion on Regularity

In my opinion, in all material respects the expenditure and income have been applied to the purposes intended by Parliament and the financial transactions conform to the authorities which govern them.

Report

I have no observations to make on these financial statements.
