Sir/Madam,

about to become another stastic in the closesure of local pubs. We have tried to resolve our rent dispute with Enterprise inns. Any reduction they are willing to offer there is always a side letter that would be written into the lease wich would take everything back to square one. They know we cant afford to take them on even through "PIRRS" as there is a cost we just dont have.

We are a small community pub who employs local labour. It has come time to call last orders as there is no more monies available. With enterprises bullying tatics we can not continue.

I agree 100% with the Rt Hon Vince Cable and hope he and his team can save what used to be part of Britains heritage.

Regards,
