dear Mary creagh (mp)

I am writing to you today about the stick that the pub lease company's are getting at the moment that i feel as a tenant of one of these so called leases that i find you are giving bad press to them that i felt it only right to defend my pub co company as i have been in the trade now for 10 years and found then nothing but helpful and willing to invest time and money in to my business. On entering the business they helped me spread my in going cost over the 12 months of my lease and gave me a great deal on my rent also giving me plenty of support with courses and advice on how to make my business grow they have a road show twice a year where all are top suppliers are under one roof and offer great deals to grow the business and show what trends and new products are available to the licence trade we also have a rbm that is at the end of a phone for advice and support when ever needed. when i first came in to the business it was a struggle at first with growing price increases every year and the vat increase but with the help and support from punch i've managed to grow my business and keep growing in a time where other pubs and business around me are failing or going bust so not everyone feels that they are getting a hard deal from there pub company

yours sincerely
