Dear mr cable My wife and I have just taken on our second punch taverns pub in . We are aware of moves to end the beer tie and are concerned that this may result in an increase of rent at both our pubs . We feel whilst recognising that our beer prices might be reduced it might not mean that we would be nessasary be better off . Punch have enabled us to take on another business opportunity without asking for monies up front . They are fully investing 130.000k in our new pub and are providing a significant launch package for the pubs re opening . We feel that if punch and other businesses in the drinks industry are put in a position where they rely on rent alone there would be no reason for them to retain ownership of pubs like us . It is our opinion that small pubs rely on the support of pubcos In return this enables them to exist as a supportive business that not only provides great opportunities for people such as our selves but provides many thousands of jobs. Too many pubs have closed in as in the rest of the country and we urge you to rethink your policy and work closer with the industry ,, we hope you take time to read this letter and would hope for your thoughts in the form of a reply thank you kindly for your time. Kind regards.

did you manage to send this mate?
