

- 1, It is the government's duty to find the safest place in the UK for long-term disposal of radio active waste.
- 2 Thegovernment should instuct the BGS to map all possible safe areas and then begin detailed assessment, starting with the most promising. The argument that this would involve too much cash or time is nonsense. The first area assessed might well be ideal.
3. Volunteerism is nonsense. Processes already exist to compensate people damaged by a development. It is a form of bribe with distorts the process of properly seeking a good site.

richard frost REDACTED REDACTED REDACTED