> I approached Enterprise Inns back in 20 at the age of 24, with regards to building by own business in the village I grew up in.
> I was very pleased that Enterprise gave me the opportunity to do this and gave me the tools to increase my knowledge on topics such as legislation, finance etc. Their training course was very helpful and gave me a great start setting up my business in the industry.
> Throughout the past two years, I have been supported by Enterprise in every way possible and feel they have enabled me to build my business up to where it is today.
> I was even given the opportunity to enhance my business skills and portfolio by taking on another concern, to which I agreed. Again, starting up another business from scratch was difficult but the support which was given to me was second to none, and hopefully I will make another Enterprise pub a success.
> I would like to thank Enterprise for having faith and giving opportunity to a person of my age which is rare to see in the current climate.
> The industry is not what it use to be, and i feel unfortunately this > is down to the government and local authorities constantly increasing
