Dear sir

I would just like to say about enterprise and the chance they give people to run there own business and the support they give has a whole.

I am a very small multiple with a reasonably low cash flow but with the chance enterprise have given me through various agreements and fair rents and discounts i have been able to build my business up. Yes granted they are not perfect but who out there is. There regional managers understand the trade and assist us with our business to say weather it right or wrong for us. They could easily lie and say yes this pub will be good for you knowing it isn't drain you of your funds and then give you the boot. But they don't they'll listen and help you out where they can. So all in all i do think i have been fairly treat by the pubco

Thanks
