To Whom it may concern,

Further to recent press reports and Government plans to change the Pubco lease and tie package I write to support Enterprise Inns who with their leases and offerings has allowed me to take on two quality public houses at very reasonable ingoings and along with their support and investment they have enhanced the business which will encourage me to take additional houses to develop my estate.

The beer prices may be higher than freetrade but the fact that they offer substantial discounts, huge range of beers, wines, spirits, simple delivery and accounting systems and full back-up and support this totally outweighs the price differentials.

Leave the Pubco leases alone they have created thousands of happy self employed operators who would not of been able to start or develop their businesses without the model.

Regards,
