Dear Dr Cable,

My name is [redacted]. As we are embarking on this exciting new career, we have never been in the Pub trade before, although we have always wanted to do this together. We have been given this fantastic opportunity to become a Punch Partner. The help and support that we have received so far has made what would seem a very daunting task seem very achievable, we really feel that we are joining one big happy family. We are so excited about our new business venture, together with the help and support of the very professional highly skilled, motivated punch team, we are very fortunate that we have opportunity to run our very own pub with very little capital investment, so that we will be employing local people and putting back into the local economy, we have all the requirements needed to deliver a high quality, fully trained well run establishment, thank's for the help and support of the Punch team, we look forward to a long and prosperous future becoming a punch Partner.
