Subject: For attention of Vince cable pubco

i keep hearing about the pub co beer tie supposed issue and would just like to give you my opinion I had been in the pub game for quite some time now and have had a very good relationship with punch taverns I have had a long term deal with these publicans and find them to be fair and very efficient I have had an investment with them to improve my income what worked as planed Wetherspoons came to my village so punch and I said its what the pub needed I am very great full for this and hope to have the same relationship moving forward I find punch very supportive and Evan though I am tied for my beer I find my busniess still profitable

My thanks
