Russell's Cairn

In 1585, at a meeting between English and Scots 'under truce' on Windy Gyle, the English Lord Francis Russell was shot and killed. The Bronze Age burial cairn on its summit was named Russell's Cairn in his memory.

More sheep than people!

Sheep have been grazed in the Cheviots since the 13/14th centuries. Look out for white-faced Cheviots which have been bred in these windswept hills for over 600 years or the horned Scottish Blackface.

The circular stone pens you see are 'stells' which offer shelter to sheep in the winter.
