

Dear Sir

Before any progress is made in building this product where are the explanation put in the UK media and on TV. It is very important that everybody involved should have full knowledge and understanding of the product, and side issues and long term effects on the community.

Thank you

Jack Crossfield