Dear Gill

I am writing in reference to your application to the Office of the Advisory Committee on Business Appointments (OACBA), to work as Chair of the Clinical Board of the London Cancer Alliance. I am pleased to be able to tell you that the First Minister has accepted OACBA's advice that your application should be approved and that the three month waiting rule for Permanent Secretaries should be waived. The OACBA have advised on a condition to this approval, and again the First Minister has agreed with the advice. The condition is:

- For a period of two years from your last day of service, you should not become personally involved in lobbying Government on behalf of your new employer. The Business Appointment Rules define lobbying in the following way "Lobbying in this context means that the former civil servant should not engage in communication with Government - including Ministers, special advisers and officials - with a view to influencing a Government decision or policy in relation to their own interests, or the interests of the organisation by which they are employed, or to whom they are contracted.

I would be grateful if you would confirm when you formally take up this position.

I am copying this letter to Roger Sampson at the Office of the Advisory Committee on Business Appointments.

Yours sincerely
