The criteria

Introduction

AS and A level subject criteria set out the knowledge, understanding, skills and assessment objectives common to all AS and A level specifications in a given subject.

They provide the framework within which the awarding organisation creates the detail of the specification.

Aims and objectives

1. AS and A level specifications in government and politics should encourage learners to:
  - develop a critical awareness of the nature of politics and the relationship between political ideas, institutions and processes;
  - acquire knowledge and understanding of the structures of authority and power within the political system of the United Kingdom, and how these may differ from those of other political systems;
  - acquire knowledge and informed understanding of the rights and responsibilities of the individual;
  - develop an interest in, and engagement with, contemporary politics.

Specification content

Knowledge and understanding

2. AS level specifications should:
  - develop a broad knowledge and understanding of the political system of the UK, including the local and European Union (EU) dimensions;
  - encourage learners to develop their capacity for critical thinking, to see relationships between different aspects of government and politics and to perceive their field of study in a broader perspective, including some comparisons with other political systems;
  - develop knowledge and understanding of relevant political concepts and processes.

3. AS and/or A2 specifications should address the following:
  - the essential characteristics and interrelationships of the legislature, the executive and the judiciary;
  - the adequacy of existing political arrangements for ensuring representative democracy and participation;
  - the rights and responsibilities of the individual ;
  - ideologies, theories and traditions;
  - current political debates.
4. Although learners should cover all the above issues, it is not expected that they will cover each area of study in equal breadth or depth, or that specifications should adopt the structure implied above.
5. In addition, A2 specifications may require learners to extend their knowledge and understanding of the political system of the United Kingdom. However, they should require learners to go beyond the context of the United Kingdom in at least one of the following areas:
  - the politics and government of another state;
  - comparative politics;
  - international politics;
  - political ideologies or political thought;
  - politics of the European Union.

Skills

6. AS and A level specifications should require learners to:
  - comprehend, synthesise and interpret political information in a variety of forms;
  - analyse and evaluate:
    - political institutions, processes and behaviour;
    - political arguments and explanations;
    - the relationship between institutions, processes, ideologies, concepts, behaviour and values;

- identify parallels, connections, similarities and differences between aspects of the political systems studied;
- select and organise relevant material to construct arguments and explanations leading to reasoned conclusions;
- communicate arguments and explanations with relevance, clarity and coherence, using appropriate political vocabulary.

Assessment objectives

7. The assessment objectives for AS and A level are the same. All learners must be required to meet the following assessment objectives. The assessment objectives are to be weighted in all specifications as indicated.

Assessment objectives		Weighting
AO1	Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of relevant institutions, processes, political concepts, theories and debates	40–50%
AO2	Analyse and evaluate political information, arguments and explanations, and identify parallels, connections, similarities and differences between aspects of the political systems studied	30–40%
AO3	Construct and communicate coherent arguments making use of a range of appropriate political vocabulary	10–20%

8. Within a specification covering both AS and A2, assessment objective 2 should have a higher weighting at A2 than at AS.
9. The assessment objectives apply to the whole specification.

Scheme of assessment

Synoptic assessment

10. Assessment must be entirely through external assessment.
11. All A2 specifications should include synoptic assessment. Synoptic assessment in government and politics will draw on all three assessment objectives and be defined in the context of government and politics as follows:
  - the drawing together of knowledge, understanding and skills learnt in different parts of the A level course. It involves the explicit assessment of understanding of the connections between the relevant areas of study included in sections 2 – 6 above.
