Filling in form APSS300A to amend an event report

Pension scheme name

This is the name by which the scheme is known.

If there is a two-party contract between the member and the establisher, enter the member's name.

Reference numbers

Pension Scheme Tax Reference number (PSTR)

The following types of pension schemes will have a PSTR.

- Schemes that registered for tax relief and exemptions on or after 6 April 2006, or where a declaration was made by a Scheme Administrator of a deferred annuity contract made on or after 6 April 2006.
 - For these schemes, we issued the number electronically when the pension scheme was registered successfully, or where a declaration was made by the Scheme Administrator of a deferred annuity contract made on or after 6 April 2006 online.
 - If the registration was made using form APSS100 or APSS100A, we will have sent a letter to tell you the number, acknowledging either the registration of the scheme for tax purposes or the declaration.
- Schemes that were established before 6 April 2006 and were approved for tax relief and exemptions and took part in the pre-registration for Pension Schemes Online exercise.
 - For these schemes, the number can be obtained by logging on to Pension Schemes Online and selecting view all schemes.

Superannuation Fund (SF) reference

If you do not have a PSTR and

- the pension scheme was established on or before 5 April 2006 and
- it is not a retirement annuity contract or a deferred annuity contract made on or before 5 April 2006, your scheme would have been given a Superannuation Fund reference number. Please refer to the letter sent to you in which you were told the scheme had been approved.

Contract or policy number

If you do not have a PSTR and

- the pension scheme was established on or before 5 April 2006 and
- it is a retirement annuity contract or a deferred annuity contract made on or before 5 April 2006, please provide the contract or policy number.

Enter the number you use to identify this scheme from any other similar scheme that the member has (if any).

By telling us the contract or policy number, you will help us to distinguish between other contracts or policies you have told us about for the same member.

National Insurance number

If a member tells you that they don't have a National Insurance number (NINO), you should ask them for written confirmation that they are not entitled to a NINO. This could be a letter from JobCentre Plus or from the member themselves.

If they are unsure if they qualify for a NINO, they should contact the JobCentre Plus Helpline on 0845 6000 643 to book a Right to Work interview. After the interview JobCentre Plus will give them either a NINO or a letter confirming they are not entitled to one.

If a member cannot remember their NINO, they might be able to find it on their P60 or their payslip. If they still cannot find their NINO they can:

- send us form CA5403 Your National Insurance number, or
- phone the National Insurance Registrations Helpline on 0845 915 7006 (lines open 8.30am to 5.00pm, Monday to Friday).

Once they have provided written confirmation that they are not entitled to a NINO, you should phone Pension Schemes Services Helpline on 0845 600 2622 to get an alternative identifier which can be used when completing this form. If they do not provide written confirmation, you may not request an alternative identifier.

When requesting an alternative identifier you will need:

- member's full name
- member's date of birth
- member's current address
- Pension Scheme Tax Reference (PSTR) and
- details of return or report being completed.

Pension Schemes Services will then provide you with an alternative identifier which can be entered in the NINO field on the return or report on Pension Schemes Online.

You do not need to fill in this if:

- the scheme is an annuity contract which existed on 6 April 2006
- the scheme is still in the process of being wound up and, for example, it is still distributing the schemes assets or securing liabilities. In this instance, the scheme will still be subject to the normal reporting requirements until the winding up process is complete.

- the scheme has become investment-regulated, or
- the scheme was registered in the year 6 April 2006 to 5 April 2007 and it is investment-regulated and when registering, the Scheme Administrator answered 'No' to the question 'Does the scheme have at least one member with the ability to control the way in which scheme assets are used?'.

- the scheme was 'approved' at 5 April 2006 and deemed to be investment-regulated from 6 April 2006.

A pension scheme set up under trust. The trust covers all members and the terms of the trust do not specifically allocate assets to a particular member.

Test 3

Calculate 7.5% of the Standard Lifetime Allowance for the tax year being reported.

If the pension commencement lump sum is more than 7.5%, fill in this section.

For information on pension commencement lump sums and stand alone lump sums refer to RPSM03304000 and RPSM03304061 respectively in the Registered Pension Schemes Manual. Go to www.hmrc.gov.uk/pensionschemes

Example

The member's pension commencement lump sum is £135,000 and their pension rights are £400,000. In this example we will use the allowances for tax year 2006-07.

Test 1

The Standard Lifetime Allowance for 2006-07 is £1.5 million. 25% of the allowance is £375,000.

The pension commencement lump sum is £135,000, which is less than 25%, so we must continue to test 2.

Test 2

The pension rights are £400,000. 25% of this figure is £100,000.

The pension commencement lump sum is £135,000, which is more than this, so we must continue to test 3.

Test 3

As noted above, the Standard Lifetime Allowance for 2006-07 is £1.5 million. 7.5% of this is £112,500.

The pension commencement lump sum is £135,000, so we must complete this section.

To decide whether the second situation applies, there are two tests:

Test 1

Calculate 7.5% of the Standard Lifetime Allowance for the tax year being reported. If the lump sum is more than this then you need to apply the second test. If the lump sum is less than this, you do not need to fill in this section.

Test 2

Check whether the stand alone lump sum is more than 25% of the Standard Lifetime Allowance.

- If it is not, then you will need to fill in this section.
- If it is, check whether the member relied on an enhanced lifetime allowance or enhanced protection.
- If they have not, you will need to fill in this section.
- If they have, you do not need to fill in this section. Fill in boxes 50 to 51 instead.
