Dear Caroline,

I am writing on behalf of British Sugar, a large company in my constituency, regarding European Sugar Reform. British Sugar are concerned that the European Commission's proposal to dismantle the remaining European sugar system as soon as 2015 would be highly damaging to the UK beet sugar industry, which rationalised in response to the last reform. I would be grateful if you could investigate their concerns, which are set out in the attached correspondence, so that I may provide them with a full response.
