Thank you for your email received by the Ministry Of Defence on 21\textsuperscript{st} October 2015 requesting the following information:

“The ethnic breakdown, in percentages and in absolute numbers, for officers in the British military, with separate values for each of the Army, the Royal Navy and the Royal Air Force branches.”

Following further communications on 29\textsuperscript{th} October 2015 the request was clarified to be:

“In particular, I was wondering if you could give me this information further broken down between the Army, Royal Navy and Royal Air Force in terms of percentages of different BME groups that these officers come from?”

We are treating your correspondence as a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA).

A search for the information has now been completed within the Ministry of Defence, and I can confirm that all the information in scope of your clarified request is held. You can find the answer to your request in Table 1 and via the links below.

Notes
1. UK Regular Forces comprises trained and untrained Full-time personnel but does not include Gurkhas, Full Time Reserve Service personnel and Reservists.
2. Ethnicity is a non-mandatory field on the Joint Personnel Administration (JPA) database.
3. Percentages relate to the Total UK Regular Strength, are calculated using unrounded figures and exclude those with unknown ethnicity.
4. Unknown Ethnicity includes those with an unrecorded ethnic origin and those who chose not to declare.

Rounding
a. Figures are rounded to the nearest 10, though numbers ending in a 5 have been rounded to the nearest multiple of 20 to avoid systematic bias, with the exception of those in the detailed BAME categories. The detailed BAME categories are rounded to the nearest 5 so as not to obscure the data.

b. Totals and sub-totals are rounded separately and so may not equal the sums of their rounded parts.

c. ~ denotes a value less than 0.05% that has been rounded to 0.

Under Section 16 (duty to provide advice and assistance), some of the information you have requested is available in our regular publications. These are available as follows:
