Conflicts of interest policy statement

Policy principles

Ofsted expects anyone employed, engaged by or working on behalf of the organisation to conduct themselves with or exhibit:

- integrity
- selflessness
- accountability
- openness
- honesty
- objectivity
- impartiality, and
- leadership.

Those who perform work on behalf of Ofsted must not put themselves in a position where previous employment, personal relationships or private interests conflict, or could be perceived to conflict, with these values. Ofsted’s approach to all potential conflicts, whether real or perceived, is to:

- always disclose
- agree arrangements to manage the conflict where possible, and
- prohibit activity when necessary.

Properly managed, individuals with declared personal interests should be able to conduct their business without restriction, particularly where they use their time and talents for the benefit of the community. However, any conflict, whether real or perceived, which is not appropriately managed can severely jeopardise individual reputation as well as Ofsted’s public standing and trust in our judgements. Therefore, all those in scope of this policy and procedure must uphold their professional obligation to declare any potential conflict of interest and adhere to any conditions or measures put in place.

Scope of policy

These policy principles cover those individuals contracted as Ofsted Inspectors (OIs). This policy and procedure should be read in conjunction with the:

- Information assurance policy - on the Engagement and Information Hub for inspectors
- ‘Conduct on inspection’ section within the Common Inspection Framework.
Policy summary

There are three general areas of conflict:

- financial conflicts, including professional activity outside Ofsted
- conflicts with Ofsted’s values, and
- conflicts in inspection activity.

These conflicts can also arise through the interests of household members, friends and anyone with whom there was/is an association.

All conflicts must be assessed to determine whether they can proceed alongside work for Ofsted without affecting the integrity and reputation of Ofsted or the individual. Measures or conditions may be implemented to minimise and manage any conflict. Failure to declare, whether intentionally or unintentionally, or any continued action contrary to the established conditions/measures, will be investigated and managed with sanctions up to and including termination of contract.

Conflicts of interest procedure

Introduction

1. This procedure applies to contracted OIs only. All Ofsted staff, including employees and contingent labour, should instead refer to the standard Conflicts of interest procedure.

2. All conflicts and potential conflicts, whether real or perceived, must be disclosed and updated on a regular basis. If an OI is in any doubt, or requires further advice, they must speak to their Regional Support Team.

3. Any activity which may contravene the provisions of this policy and procedure is deemed to be a potential conflict of interest and must be declared.

4. As detailed in the policy statement, individuals with declared conflicts are often able to conduct their business without restriction. The purpose of this document is to ensure that all real or perceived conflicts are declared to enable Ofsted to consider them, thus helping to protect the individual and the organisation.

5. For ease of reference, tables detailing those conflicts or potential conflicts which must be declared are presented in this procedure. It should be noted, however, that these should not be seen as exhaustive lists; OIs are expected to apply good judgment in assessing whether any non-listed activity may also represent a real or perceived conflict. Each situation should be considered on its own merits.

Definition

6. A conflict of interest arises where an OI or their household members or close friends have a private interest which might influence, or be reasonably perceived to influence, their judgement in carrying out their duties, including making inspection judgements.

7. As well as real conflicts of interest, it is important that OIs are aware of the perspective of others and, therefore, any interests which could be perceived to give an appearance of bias, or where misuse of position could reasonably be inferred, must also be declared.

8. In Ofsted, conflicts of interest are grouped by, but not limited to, three types of conflict as detailed in the policy statement. More detail on each type of conflict is provided below.

Financial conflicts including professional activity outside Ofsted

9. A financial conflict is a personal pecuniary interest or financial interest of close associates, household members or friends, which may be affected by Ofsted’s work. All such conflicts, whether real or at risk of being perceived, must be declared.

10. Financial conflicts must be declared but can usually proceed alongside work for Ofsted as long as the integrity and reputation of Ofsted is protected and damage to the individual’s reputation is avoided.

11. Those involved in the award of contracts must be particularly careful to ensure that they are not influenced, nor could be perceived to be influenced, by an association with any of those contracting with Ofsted.

12. OIs must only use the ‘Ofsted Inspector’ title while undertaking work on Ofsted’s behalf. The title ‘Ofsted Inspector’ must not be used in any other context or used to procure other work.

Conflicts with Ofsted’s values

13. OIs must act at all times in a way that is consistent with Ofsted’s set of values:

   ■ putting children and learners first
   ■ achieving excellence
   ■ behaving with integrity, and
   ■ valuing people’s differences.

14. It is vital that Ofsted protects its ability to inspect without fear or favour. OIs must declare any personally held faith, beliefs or membership/participation in groups or associations, which may cause a real or perceived bias of inspection and regulation practice or judgements. The same applies to any religious requirements or activity, which has the potential to give rise to any real or perceived bias or perception of less favourable treatment among those we inspect. It is important to be aware that personal presentation, dress and behaviour can all give rise to perceived conflicts. OIs must, therefore, declare anything that could give rise to a perceived conflict with an individual’s work duties or perceived impact on their ability, impartiality or judgement. The dress code provides more information on acceptable standards of dress in Ofsted.

Conflicts in inspection activity

15. OIs should not accept work or undertake inspection or regulation activity with a provider where past, present or future employment, engagement, allegiance or relationship suggests an actual or perceived bias or any personal benefit. If an OI sits on a governing body of a provider, they will not be permitted to inspect that provider or any linked providers.

16. Unless asked to do so as part of their role with Ofsted, OIs should not use the ‘Ofsted Inspector’ title or Ofsted’s branding in any activity which includes speaking publicly on matters related to the work of, or within areas of interest to Ofsted; for example, carrying out mock Ofsted inspections or speaking publicly on how to prepare for inspection.

Conflicts of interest process map

Ofsted Inspector (OI) identifies potential conflict*

Has the conflict been identified before the inspection is scheduled/work is allocated?

Yes

The OI records the details of the conflict directly onto the inspector self-service portal

No

The OI ensures the conflict is now captured on the portal

Has the conflict been identified before receiving full details of the inspection/arriving on inspection?

Yes

The OI records the details of the conflict directly onto the inspector self-service portal

No

The OI contacts the Regional Support Team (RST) to discuss whether there is a potential conflict

Where a potential conflict exists, the Regional Business Manager considers the declared conflict and provides the details, together with a recommended course of action, to the decision maker.

The decision maker considers the declaration

Conflict incompatible with Ofsted work

Conditions/measures to be applied

No action required

RST confirm the outcome in writing to the OI and ensure an audit trail of the discussions/decision is recorded for future reference

If no measures are possible, is the OI willing or able to cease the activity/interest giving rise to the conflict?

Yes

Ofsted considers next steps up to termination of OI’s agreement

No

The OI is able to challenge a decision regarding a conflict of interest by submitting their reasons in writing to the relevant Regional Director within 10 days of the decision being communicated

The OI declines the inspection

Inspection Planning Team (IPT) remove the inspector from the allocated work and arrange alternative resource

Ofsted Inspector contacts their Regional Support Team (RST)

RST informs the Inspection Planning Team and Duty Desk

Yes

No

The OI contacts the Regional Support Team (RST) on the OI’s behalf – the OI is responsible for checking the information held about them is correct and remains up to date throughout their work for Ofsted, and for notifying the Regional Support Team if there are any changes.

If you’re not sure whether a real or perceived conflict might exist, make sure you talk it through with your link HMI or Regional Support Team.

* Please note that conflicts of interest declared through the selection process will be added to the Inspector self-service portal/notified to the relevant Regional Support Team on the OI’s behalf – the OI is responsible for checking the information held about them is correct and remains up to date throughout their work for Ofsted, and for notifying the Regional Support Team if there are any changes.
Process

Step 1 - Declaring a conflict

17. At the time of selection, it is expected that OIs will declare all potential conflicts of interest in order for Ofsted to fully assess whether they will be able to effectively perform an inspector role. In addition, OIs must immediately bring any changes to declared conflicts of interest or new conflicts to the attention of the Regional Support Team, who will work with the link HMI and Senior HMI to determine whether the conflict impacts on the individual’s ability to continue to inspect.

18. OIs must keep their information, including conflicts of interest with providers, updated in the Inspector self-service portal. This information will only be visible to the individual inspector, their Regional Business Manager, link HMI, Senior HMI and Regional Director. The Inspection Planning Team will only be notified where a conflict exists, but not of the nature of the conflict.

19. If the inspector is uncertain whether a real or perceived conflict of interest exists, they must discuss it with the Regional Support Team in liaison with their link HMI.

20. If a conflict relates to a provider, the OI should enter the conflict into the Inspector self-service portal, which will automatically prevent them being assigned to a provider with which they have an association, or a linked provider.

21. There is a small possibility that links between providers may change in the period between being scheduled for an inspection and the inspection taking place; therefore, OIs are responsible for continuously ensuring that there is no real or perceived conflict of interest before undertaking an inspection event or any work for Ofsted, and declining inspections where they feel there may be a real or perceived conflict.

22. If an OI realises a conflict may exist between being scheduled to complete an inspection and receiving the full details of the inspection, or upon receiving the full inspection details, they should contact the Regional Support Team who will inform the Inspection Planning Team and duty desk. The OI will be removed from the inspection and an alternative resource found to conduct the inspection. The OI must ensure that the conflict is recorded in the Inspector self-service portal immediately.

23. Occasionally, a conflict of interest may occur unexpectedly during an inspection, for example, meeting a former close colleague during an inspection. Where this happens, the Lead Inspector, in liaison with their duty desk, must be informed immediately and a decision taken whether to remove the individual from that inspection. The Regional Director should be informed at the earliest opportunity.

24. Any conflicts of interest which relate to membership or affiliation to a group or movement must be entered into the Inspector self-service portal and also discussed with the Regional Support Team who will then complete a Declarations of conflicts of interest form.
25. All other potential conflicts should be discussed with the Regional Support Team who will complete a Declarations of conflicts of interest form and determine next steps to be taken, as appropriate.

Step 2 – Considering the declaration

26. All conflicts submitted to the Regional Support Team will be recorded on the Declaration of conflicts of interest form and considered by the Regional Business Manager. The Regional Business Manager will provide the details, together with a recommended course of action, to the relevant Senior HMI. The link HMI will also be notified and provided with the opportunity to input any relevant information.

27. When assessing the declaration, the Regional Business Manager and the Senior HMI must consider whether:

- the interest affects the inspector’s ability to meet the requirements of their agreement, for example, whether the interest has a negative impact on the overall scheduling of inspections
- any restrictions required to manage the conflict would prevent applicants from undertaking the full range of duties - OIs must be able to undertake the minimum requirement of working days in their individual agreement
- information relating to the current or future work of Ofsted, other than information that is already in the public domain, could be disclosed through the interest or would be perceived as likely to be disclosed by the interest
- the interest is likely to bring Ofsted into disrepute or if the interest may give rise any reasonable concerns that Ofsted’s judgement or independence could be compromised
- there is likely to be potential damage to the reputation of the inspector which would damage their credibility or their perceived judgement
- the inspector could be or be seen to be unfairly using the knowledge obtained through their Ofsted agreement for personal gain, and
- the interest would cause any increase in costs or administration for Ofsted, cause a reduction in efficiency or put an unreasonable burden on other OIs or Ofsted’s employees.
Step 3 – Reaching a decision

28. It may be possible to manage a conflict of interest by implementing measures or conditions to mitigate or minimise the risk, for example, by avoiding certain providers, altering schedules, or reorganising inspection teams. The Senior HMI should also consider whether measures/conditions should be time-limited. The outcome, together with any measures/conditions or restrictions, including any effective dates, should be recorded by the Regional Support Team on the Declaration of conflicts of interest form for future reference.

29. The Senior HMI will ensure that:

- the OI is informed in writing of the decision and an audit trail of the discussions/decision are recorded for future reference by the Regional Support Team
- any conditions/measures put in place are clearly explained and reasons provided
- any conditions/measures agreed are implemented and their effectiveness monitored, and
- where it is not possible to put in place measures to manage the conflict, the OI is given a full explanation for the decision and the next steps, including the right to challenge the decision.

30. If the OI is permitted to continue an interest alongside their work for Ofsted, with or without measures/conditions, the Senior HMI considering the declaration must ensure that:

- no information relating to the current or future work of Ofsted may be disclosed, other than information that is already in the public domain
- the interest may not be advertised or promoted in any way that refers to Ofsted, its employees or stakeholders, and
- the interest must not result in improper conduct, for example, through the use of Ofsted time, titles or contacts.

31. If a conflict cannot be managed, the inspector should be asked to stop the interest. Where this is not possible and the inspector intends to continue with the conflicting interest, Ofsted may take steps up to and including terminating the agreement. Each situation will be dealt with on a case-by-case basis.

Step 4 – Challenging the decision

32. If the OI is dissatisfied with the decision regarding their conflict of interest, they have the right to challenge that decision. The OI must set out, in writing, their reason(s) for challenging the decision. This should be submitted to the Senior HMI who made the original decision within 10 working days of the notification of the decision.
33. Challenges should be considered and responded to in writing by the Regional Director. Wherever possible, the outcome of the challenge and the reason for the decision will be communicated in writing within 10 working days of receipt of the letter challenging the original decision.

34. In certain circumstances, further action and/or investigation may be necessary. In these cases, the OI will be informed of this in writing and will receive the decision as soon as is reasonably practicable.

Step 5 - Reviewing decisions and declaring changes

35. The link HMI and Senior HMI should monitor any declared interests and mitigating conditions/measures to ensure they are, and remain, appropriate and effective.

36. OIs are required to keep their declaration of conflicts up to date and declare to their Regional Support Team any change in circumstances or new interests before or as soon as they occur.

37. Authorisation, once given, may be withdrawn if Ofsted’s changing requirements make this necessary or if the additional activity impacts adversely on the OI’s ability to fulfil the requirements of their agreement with Ofsted.
