

Dear Laurence,

Apologies for the delayed response. As discussed, we welcome the aims of the directive and in broad terms accept the detail set out in the draft regulations in relation to the policies. We have one general point to make regarding the 2014 Regulations.

The general remark is that there are aspects of the Regulations set out in 2014 that it may be helpful to reference when implementing this directive. For example the sections relating to obligations to rights holders and licensees may be helpful to consider when defining them in the new directive.

I can be contacted by this email address or via the details below if you would like to discuss further.

Regards,

Matt Day
