

Competition for Funding of Energy Efficiency Training (Non Domestic)

(2012-2013)

Update to Guidance 20 December 2012

Following a number of enquiries regarding this funding competition DECC would like to clarify the following:

Nature of bidding organisation (Eligibility)

- As long as the proposal relates to the delivery of energy efficiency, the bidder does not necessarily have to be a specialist training provider. Local Authorities and NGOs are eligible but the assessment of funds will take into account the added value and likely impact of the proposal.

Certification

- We are not restricting the fund to proposals which deliver certified energy efficiency training but assessment of the bids will take into account the level of assurance on the quality of the training.

Online training

- Online training is eligible but assessment of the bids will take into account the quality and likely impact of the training.
