

Mediation Providers

We encourage parties to consider mediation as an alternative to litigation, but they are not restricted to our mediation service and are free to choose who mediates. Some of the many individuals and organisations available have contacted us to say they can mediate Intellectual Property related disputes.

It is not appropriate for us to recommend particular providers; however the Civil Mediation Council (CMC) has introduced an accreditation scheme for mediation providers. This list contains both CMC and non-CMC accredited providers and you may wish to consider this when selecting a provider.

We are keen to highlight that numerous trade bodies also provide mediation services for their members.
